At the Kansas City Fat Stock Show, three years old and under four, was won by Mr. C. S. Barclay, of West Liberty, Ia., on a bunch of short-horns, averaging 1,770 lbs. On yearling calves, the champion was a pair of the Potts and Morrow and Ricks; Illinois gaining the blue.

Maine Farmer.
How good a keeper is the Wealthy Apple? It is claimed by some to be a good keeper, while others do not place it among the apples of the kind. When we were there it was running on apple jelly. A press by the side of it was expressing the cider from the apples, and the juice was being put into a large wooden tub, and the apples were being put into a large wooden tub.

Our Thanksgiving.

And here it is again—the glorious old New England Thanksgiving, consecrated by the tender memories of the past, and the joyful anticipations of the future. It is coming thrice the blood of ages, gives a new impulse to the activities of youth, and a new vigor to the energies of old age. It is a time of thanksgiving for the many blessings that have been bestowed upon us, and a time of prayer for the many blessings that we desire to receive.

By a beautiful custom the family is united in this blessed season of praise, and the holy and subdued emotions of the soul are warmed and brightened by the lively joys of reunited affections.

The occasion divides a spirit of universal kindness and good humor, hospitably opens wide its doors on guests of cheer to warm firesides and bounteous good cheer; charity glows in every breast.

Within the hospitable walls of the old homestead, the family circle is gathered, and the cordial greetings on every hand.

These old-time institutions are not all forgotten, and the memory of the past is ever present in the minds of the young and the old.
